Sunday: Ex 32:7-11, 13-14; Ps 51:3-4, 12-13, 17, 19;
1 Tm 1:12-17; Lk 15:1-32 [1-10]

TODAY'S READINGS

Wisdom 9:13–18b: Our choices in life are timid compared to God's choices for us.
Psalm 90: "In every age, O Lord, you have been our refuge."
Philemon 9–10, 12–17: Paul baptizes a slave and then expects the slave's master to accept the slave as a brother.
Luke 14:25–33: Do you want to be a disciple? Renounce everything else, with no reservations, no regrets.

Jesus, our teacher, offers lessons today on being a disciple. These lessons can be difficult—we must carry our own crosses, we must renounce all our possessions, we even must hate our own family—but we gather as a family of faith in this place to hear them and reflect on them. The words of Wisdom may help, as they point out that as much as we try, we cannot possibly conceive the mind of God. Therefore, with faith and humility, let us listen to God's word.

A MESSAGE FROM FR. PETER

Dear Immaculate Conception Parish Family,

I have been happy to serve you in your Church for almost 10 years. You have made me feel welcomed and appreciated. This time has seen me serve with 3 of your Pastors.

I want to join you in affirming your new Pastor, Fr. Tom. He is a good, hard-working Pastor and wants what is best for our parish family. I pray that you want to support his Pastoral leadership and, personally, I ask you to remember to support the good works of our Food Pantry. Our community has more hungry people than you think!

Once again, I thank you for welcoming me to your Parish and I pray that our loving God will continue to bless us.

Sincerely in Christ,

Fr. Peter

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Religious Education Office Hours are:

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday
9am to 5pm
631-288-4188

We have been busy preparing to begin our Religious Education program which begins at the end of September. How quickly that came up!

At this time, all registered families should have received their parent packet which includes the calendar, parent handbook & guidelines for the 2025-2026 year. If you have already registered for this year and have not received the packet, please give us a call.

We are looking forward to seeing you all soon!

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED!!

We're still in need of CATECHISTS for our Religious Education program -especially for Levels 3, 5, 6 & 8. Please prayerfully consider if God may be calling you to share your Faith with the children of Immaculate Conception Church. If you'd like to volunteer or have questions, please contact us at (631) 288-4188.

Monday: Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary

Tuesday: St. Peter Claver

Friday: The Most Holy Name of Mary

Saturday: St. John Chrysostom

REFLECTIONS

Living Stewardship

Create a habit of asking God for guidance. Ask the Holy Spirit to guide you each day of your life. Ask God to give you wisdom so that your paths may be made straight... "And thus were the paths of those on earth made straight."

Bulletin Reflection

Jesus needs to be number 1 in our life. When we put Him first, everything else will fall into place.

The Fair Trade Movement, begun just a few years after the end of World War II, is a trade arrangement designed to help producers in developing countries, in particular coffee and cocoa bean growers, achieve sustainable and equitable conditions. The Fair Trade Movement urges the paying of higher prices to exporters and improving social and environmental standards. Not only are agricultural cooperatives helped, but local villages are as well, through the implementation of good drinking water, among other initiatives.

A Fair Trade table of coffee & chocolate will be available for your support after the Sunday morning Masses next weekend during our Hospitality in the Narthex of the Church. We look forward to seeing you there!

INTRODUCTION TO THE EUCHARISTIC PRAYER

In this prayer of thanksgiving, we remember the cross and resurrection of Christ, and the redemption won for us through Christ's outpouring of love. Let us carry the crosses we bear into this prayer, asking that we too will know the power and freedom of the Resurrection.

INTRODUCTION TO THE LITURGY OF THE DAY

Over the last two thousand years Jesus has been given many titles, from Bread of Life to Our Savior. One of his first titles, going back to when he first stood and proclaimed God's word in the synagogue, is Rabbi, or Teacher. How appropriate to focus on that title on this first Sunday of September, a time of year when millions of young people are returning to school. Today we hear Jesus teach the crowds what it means to be a disciple. May he teach us as well as we gather together in his name.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

How do I feel challenged by Jesus' demands of discipleship?

The WOMEN'S BIBLE STUDY of Immaculate Conception Church would like to thank all those amazing women who attended this year's Book Club event on August 14th. The book chosen was "The Red Tent", by Anita Diamant. This book is a fictional book giving a voice to women during biblical times. It was about the retelling of the biblical story of DINAH found in the book of Genesis. The group agreed this was a complicated book that had gold nuggets from start to finish. Our ladies did a deep dive surpassing each other with the gold nuggets found and shared during our discussions. A special thank you to the whole leadership team, especially Susan Valentino and Carol Thorn, for leading this year's event as you can see from the pictures no detail was spared when creating our own Red Tent!

We love you all... thank you for sharing and making this a great event! God bless you. We look forward to seeing you in September.

DO YOU KNOW what Mary's life was like in Jerusalem before the Annunciation? Or her role in Christ's ministry or at his first miracle at Cana? What was the inspiration for the Hail Mary prayer? Who was Christ's first disciple? Why is Mary called the Ark of the New Covenant?

JOIN us on this journey where we will learn about MARY's life through scripture, through Marian Art of the Catholic Church, through music and prayers honoring Mary, rediscovering the Rosary mysteries and the BVM's Role in Salvation History, all designed to inspire and to enhance our understanding and our devotion to the Mother of God!

Bible Study Guide: "THE BIBLE and the BLESSED VIRGIN MARY" written by Scott Hahn, an amazing Theologian, speaker and writer!

- This study includes Hail Holy Queen, also written by Scott Hahn.
- The Videos about the Blessed Mother are engaging, informative in an intriguing way and promises to provide us with many new topics to discuss at our meetings.
- In addition, each week we will focus on one of the Rosary mysteries, learn about Renaissance works of Art depicting the BVM, scripture readings, and meditations, after which we pray one decade!

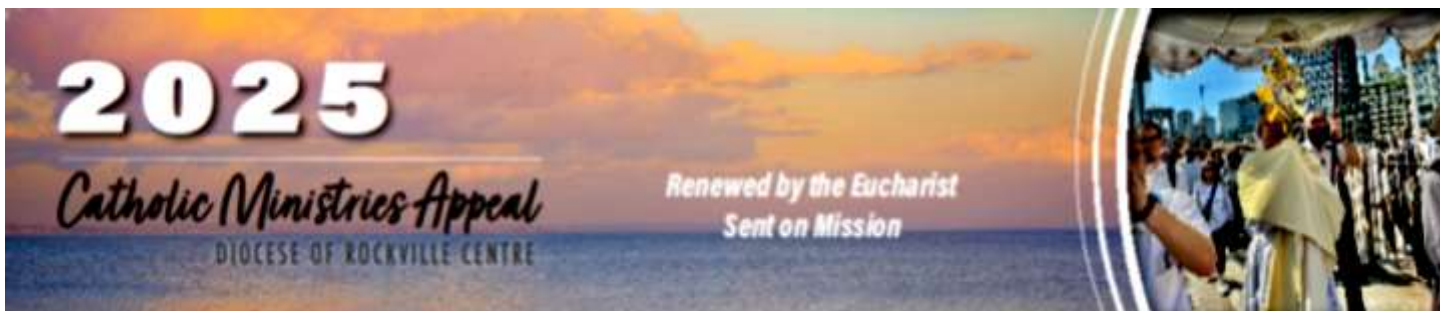

JOIN this amazing, inspiring, humorous and welcoming group and share your faith and fellowship with other ladies from our Parish. We look forward to seeing you and hope that you will decide to join us on Thursdays for our Women's Bible Study!

Please email us with your information so that we may order books for you and have them available at our first meeting!

Invite a Friend! We'd love to meet you! All are Welcome!

September marks Hunger Action Month, a nationwide initiative dedicated to raising awareness about hunger and encouraging communities to take action. Here on Long Island, where many families face food insecurity, this month serves as a reminder of the power we have to make a difference in the lives of our neighbors.

What You Make Possible

Through your support of the Catholic Ministries Appeal, we are able to fund programs such as Catholic Charities and Parish Social Ministry, just two examples of vital organizations that help those in need in our community.

As Christians, we are called to follow the example of Jesus, who fed the hungry with compassion and love. The story of the loaves and fishes reminds us that even the smallest offerings, when given with a generous heart, can be multiplied to meet the needs of many.

Saint Teresa of Calcutta often spoke about the importance of seeing Christ in the faces of those who suffer. She believed that feeding the hungry was not just an act of charity but a profound expression of love and respect for the dignity of every human being.

Hunger Action Month offers us a sacred opportunity to embody Christ's teachings by serving those in need within our communities.

By reaching out to our neighbors with compassion and generosity we share the love and hope that Christ offers to all.

Thank you for your support!!

St. Pius X Residence for Retired Priests

"...at the root of every vocation, God is present, in his mercy and his goodness..."

- Pope Leo XIV

Dear Friends:

Please accept my deepest thanks for your prayers and continued financial support for our senior priests residing at St. Pius X Residence.

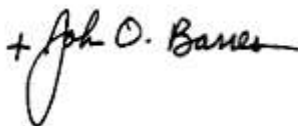

At St. Pius X Residence, our retired diocesan priests live each day with dignity and the ability to practice their Catholic faith in a brotherly community. Although retired, those who are physically able continue to generously help in so many ways — offering Mass at local parishes, hearing confessions, and sharing their spiritual and administrative wisdom with their brother priests. They also spend time in prayer in their chapel praying for the needs of everyone in our diocese.

Our retired priests have served so many people over the course of their ministry, nourishing our Catholic faith, educating our youth, and serving the poor and vulnerable. These priests made a commitment to God to serve Him for their life on earth.

As we offer thanks to God for the gift of the priesthood in our Diocese, and as we pray together for a rich harvest of vocations to the priesthood on Long Island, we have a critical role to play in the life of our priests, including our senior priests.

This month you will have the opportunity to express your gratitude to our priests and celebrate their presence among us through your gift to the annual St. Pius X Residence Fund. Your gifts and prayers will ensure that our retired priests are properly cared for today and long into the future.

With my prayers and gratitude.

Residencia San Pío X para Sacerdotes Jubilados

"... en la raíz de toda vocación está Dios, su misericordia y su bondad..."

- Papa León XIV

Estimados amigos:

Por favor acepte mi más profundo agradecimiento por sus oraciones y continuo aporte económico a favor de nuestros sacerdotes jubilados que viven en la Residencia San Pío X.

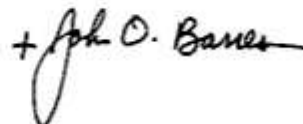

En la Residencia San Pío X nuestros sacerdotes diocesanos viven cada día con dignidad y pueden practicar su fe católica en una comunidad de hermandad. Aunque ya están jubilados, los que aún pueden físicamente hacerlo continúan generosamente ayudando de muchas maneras -celebrando la Santa Misa en parroquias cercanas, escuchando confesiones, y compartiendo su sabiduría espiritual y administrativa con sus hermanos sacerdotes. También rezan en su capilla y oran por las necesidades de todos en nuestra diócesis.

En el transcurso de su ministerio, nuestros sacerdotes jubilados han servido a mucha gente, alentando la fe católica, educando a nuestros jóvenes, y sirviendo a los más necesitados y vulnerables. Estos sacerdotes prometieron servir a Dios para toda la vida.

Al agradecer a Dios por el regalo del sacerdocio en nuestra Diócesis y al juntos orar por una abundante cosecha de vocaciones sacerdotales en Long Island, tenemos un rol muy importante en la vida de nuestros sacerdotes, incluyendo a nuestros sacerdotes ancianos.

Este mes usted podrá expresar su gratitud a nuestros sacerdotes y celebrar su presencia entre nosotros con un donativo anual a favor de la Residencia San Pío X. Su donativo y oraciones harán posible que nuestros sacerdotes jubilados reciban atención adecuada hoy y en el futuro.

Con mis oraciones y agradecimiento.

A Gift, but With an Expiration Date

Diagnosed in 1995 with the most aggressive form of brain cancer known as glioblastoma multiforme, and given only a few months life expectancy, Dr. Ben Williams, a professor of psychology at the University of California San Diego, summed up his experience this way:

“When I was diagnosed with brain cancer, I knew almost nothing about the disease, other than it was one of the worst medical diagnoses you can get.... I hadn’t even heard of a glioblastoma at that point. I was told it was the worst kind of tumor you could have, and that nobody survived it. ... For the first several months, most of my thinking was: I’m going to die — how am I going to deal with it? I thought a lot about death. When you receive a diagnosis that everyone tells you is terminal, that no one survives it, it’s impossible not to become depressed by that information. I look at pictures from that period of time, and clearly I was depressed. It wasn’t until I began doing research that said there was a possibility, that there are things that you can do that would be helpful, that I began to think, ‘Well, this is worth at least making the fight.’”

The bewildering experience of receiving an adverse diagnosis reminds us how personal our physical health is. In a certain sense, nothing could be more intimate or immediate. As we age and start to feel poorly, and especially when we struggle with serious or life-threatening illnesses, it can seem that our bodily health is the highest good there is, the summum bonum, almost an “absolute” good. Declining health can trigger feelings of sadness and depression as we sense our life slipping through our fingers, and sometimes can lead to dark temptations like physician-assisted suicide or euthanasia. We may fall prey to oft-repeated cultural clichés such as: “I’m free to do what I want with my life and health,” or even, “My life is no longer worth living.”

Life and health are clearly very important goods. They are instrumental goods, enabling us to pursue and partake of other important goods, like interpersonal and familial relationships, employment, recreation, etc. Health and well-being are also “goals” worthy of energetic pursuit to the extent that we have some control over a limited set of variables like exercise and nutrition that affect our health.

While it is good to take steps to improve our health, we are not “entitled” to good health, nor is it a “right” we can lay claim to. We have not originally conferred the state of life or health upon ourselves but have received it gratuitously from the Giver of all gifts — a gift with an earthly expiration date. Our health and well-being, marked by fragility, are transient and contingent, and therefore not “absolute goods.”

Health challenges, of course, are part of almost every person’s life journey. We may struggle not only with physical maladies, but also with mental limitations like ADHD, obsessive compulsive disorders, depression or any number of other agonizing mental conditions that constrict our well-being and livelihood.

As we age and face an expanding list of ailments and infirmities, new opportunities for growth and transformation arise. Contending with weakness and sickness, for example, draws us into connection with other people, as we come to depend on them for assistance.

When we face a worsening health situation, we should earnestly pursue several goals: first, to take responsible steps to restore our health, including doctor visits, medications, surgeries, or other reasonable interventions; second, to seek to reflect more deeply, and in spiritual terms, on the meaning of our health burdens; and third, to work to accept our situation without fear, desperation, or irresponsible actions like physician-assisted suicide or euthanasia.

Coming to accept our situation, with all its ups and downs, helps us begin preparing for our earthly end, death itself, prompting us to take up core questions about life's meaning, the survival of the soul, life after death and even the resurrection of the body.

The afflictions we struggle against can lead us actively to surrender and accept where we are, even as we turn to the One who sees all things and knows the specifics of our situation better than we do.

When our lives are marked by good health, vigor and strength, we may hesitate to engage these kinds of core questions in any meaningful way. We tend to look past important transcendental priorities and focus on immediate temporal matters.

Health, then, is an instrumental good, but so is sickness. Both can serve to point us towards higher, more spiritual goods. At some point, we may even be able to see our ailments as a blessing and a gift from the One who better sees the big picture of our life's journey.

Rev. Tadeusz Pacholczyk, Ph.D. earned his doctorate in neuroscience from Yale and did post-doctoral work at Harvard. He is a priest of the diocese of Fall River, MA, and serves as Senior Ethicist at The National Catholic Bioethics Center in Philadelphia. See www.ncbcenter.org and www.fathertad.com.
